

Executable English

A System for writing and running applications in open vocabulary English

- A new design that does not need English dictionary or grammar maintenance
- The open vocabulary English semantics are strict
- Author- and user-interface is your browser and your plain English phrases
- Automatically generates and runs complex SQL over networked databases
- Automatically produces business level English explanations of results

The system is online, and shared use is free

- See it work: examples you can read, run and change at www.executable-english.com:
 - Analytics. Oil industry supply chain planning.
 - Energy independence linking US DOE and other data
 - Semantic matching of a retailer's requirements to a manufacturer's capabilities
 - English querying of RDF data, with English explanations of the results
 - Merging and inter-operation of ontologies, and more!
